1. Introduction

This Cookie Policy explains how Complivolve Ltd (“we”, “us”, “our”) uses cookies and similar technologies on our public-facing marketing website. It does not apply to the Complivolve application (the secure platform), where only essential session cookies are used.

By continuing to browse our website, you agree to the use of cookies described below.

2. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored on your device when you visit a website. They help websites function properly, remember preferences, and improve user experience.

3. Types of Cookies We Use

3.1 Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the website to operate.

They enable functions such as:

- basic page navigation
- security features
- load balancing
- cookie consent storage

These cookies do not require consent under UK law.

Examples (depending on your final website builder):

- __cf_bm or server load-balancing cookies
- cookie-banner preference cookie

- session identifier for basic site functionality

3.2 Analytics Cookies (Optional)

We may use privacy-focused website analytics tools (such as Plausible or Google Analytics) to understand aggregated visitor behaviour on our marketing site.

Analytics cookies, if enabled:

- do not identify individual users
- collect anonymised usage data (page views, device type, referrer)
- are only activated after you provide consent

You can withdraw consent at any time through the cookie settings panel.

3.3 No Advertising or Tracking Cookies

Complivolve does not intentionally use:

- advertising cookies
- behavioural tracking cookies
- social media tracking pixels
- third-party marketing cookies

If any non-essential or marketing-related cookies are placed by our website provider (e.g. Wix), they will only be activated after the visitor has provided explicit consent through the cookie banner. Complivolve does not sell visitor data and does not use cookie data for advertising or profiling.

4. How to Manage Cookies

Most browsers allow you to control cookies through their settings.

You can:

- delete cookies
- block cookies
- restrict cookies from specific websites
- use privacy modes

Be aware that disabling strictly necessary cookies may affect website functionality.

5. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy from time to time.

The latest version will always be published on this page.
